A Delightful Irish Ballad

At the End of a Cobblestone Road

It is many a day,
 Since I travelled away,
 From Ireland far over the sea,
 But in all of my dreams,
 I go back there it seems,
 There's a voice that is calling to me:

Ev'ry thought that I send
 Seems to start and to end,
 In ould Ireland far over the foam,
 Where the wild roses grow
 That's where I long to go,
 When I'm back, never more will I roam.

REFRAIN

Sure the place I love best,
 Is a quaint little nest,
 At the end of a cobblestone road,
 By an old garden gate,
 There is someone who'll wait,
 For the day I'll be coming back home,
 Tho' the gold's turned to silver from sorrow and care
 There is no one with her can compare,
 When the sun goes to rest,
 I'll go back to that nest,
 At the end of a cobblestone road.

An English Ballad Success

"THE LITTLE OLD GARDEN"

In a little old garden away from the world,
I wander and sing 'mid the blossoms unfurl'd,
I treasure its music, its sunshine and dew,
For I live there, and dream there, and love there with you.

It's a little old garden, when I'm tired and old,
I pray God may give me to have and to hold,
Its song-birds and roses and glory all mine,
And you, dear, to make that dear garden divine!
